Constructive Daily Lifestyle Reflections & Suggestions

Proceeds go to Non-Profit, Earth-Healing Programs

Special Days, Celebrations, Moon Phases & Seasonal Lore
Our black & white wall calendar (11" x 17") offers a unique collection of special days, celebrations, moon phases and seasonal lore - all printed on recycled paper. Wisdom, wonder, quotes and humor - with 365 suggestions to help you listen to the simple, natural rhythms that lead to a more balanced and fulfilling life.

All proceeds from calendar sales support the work of Appalachia-Science in the Public Interest - working for healthy land and sustainable communities in Kentucky and Central Appalachia. We use science and technology to benefit current and future generations and the environment by promoting innovative ideas and appropriate technologies. We accomplish this through education, advocacy, research, consulting, and demonstration projects.

Another challenging year, testing our personal, social and ideological bonds; hopefully leaving us even further convinced of the need for action and reflection and dedication to the simple lifestyle, with gratitude for the invisible but strongly felt grace which infuses our world. Our 45th edition Calendar features photographs from across the mountains and years, with reminders of ways in which to celebrate environment and the Simple Life - May yours continue to be one of deep insight and joy.
